Previously named Sioux Falls, Stranger Ranger, release a new album titled Daymoon. The album plays at a very slow pace with stagnant vocals. The instruments layer beautifully over each other and depending what song you are listening to, you find some synth, accordion, or even a dog barking. When I listen to this album, I can feel myself decaying because it is so slow but I don’t hate it, I kind of enjoy it.

Sounds Like:
Peaer
Sounds Like:
Soft Fangs

Recommended Tracks:
Hydration is Key: so many layers of sounds that sound great but also H20 is very important
Subaru: short lil song that sounds good and is easy to sing a long to
